PILGRIM: That clock was here when Baba was here?

MANI: Yes. That clock was also in Guruprasad. I loved it when it was in Guruprasad in the big hall. It was at an angle that Baba could see, and all His lovers sitting in front of Him couldn't. And when it was getting time and you know, Baba would know what the time is anyway but He would do it so beautifully. He would point and.

This is one occasion that I remember so well. The hall is packed. Hundreds of lovers, just taking in Baba's presence. You know, just looking, just to gaze at Him. Just their eyes just drinking Him in. And they are seated before Baba.

And suddenly then, Baba talks about obedience. He says...

Well, Rafael asked if this clock was, also existed with us when Baba was in the physical form with us, and I said, "Yes."

And also I remember very specially in Guruprasad when this clock was there, it was placed at an angle where Baba could see it, but His, the hundreds of His lovers seated before Him, could not view it. It happened to be so placed.

So when they were all, just adoring, Baba, looking at Baba, and then, this occasion I remember. And Baba started talking about obedience and you know, what obedience meant. And everybody was, you could see them straightening their shoulders and sitting up straighter, and they were ready to obey Baba. Anything, anything. And then Baba just had to say, "Enough. [sound of clap] Jump off that terrace from there," and whoop, all of them would do it. It was, you could see that from their eyes. "Oh, Baba, tell us what to do. We are ready."

And so Baba said, "In two minutes flat, I want the whole of Guruprasad empty." Oh, the groans and the moans. They were tricks. Hah, this. Then Baba looks at the clock and says, "See, time is up." Yes.
